MORE THAN INTELLIGENCE, SOCIAL CLASS OR WHAT SCHOOL WAS ATTENDED, A PERSON'S SELF ESTEEM IS THE BEST PREDICTOR OF ACHIEVEMENT AND HAPPINESS IN LIFE.

The problem is that this human characteristic, while widely written about, is very difficult to change when it is a problem for someone. This workshop looks at the ingredients that lead to self esteem and what can be done to increase these ingredients in children throughout life. Dr. Deak utilizes her famous 'green stories' to illustrate what self esteem is and what can be done to improve it in the lives of boys and girls.

“ Every interaction a child has, during the course of a day, influences the adult that child will become. ”

JoAnn Deak, Ph.D., has spent more than twenty years as an educator and psychologist, helping children develop into confident and competent adults. Her focus is on working with parents and teachers in their roles as guides for children.
